Beautification and Housing

The War Services Council has passed a further and stronger resolution urging immediate civic action on the projected Macdonald hotel park. It is asking the active support of its more than a hundred affiliated organizations in a general campaign of beautification. Miss Dorothy Emanuel, a young woman who will return to this city and as a memorial to those who will not return.

It is significant that the same meeting which passed this resolution also set up a committee to study the possibility of an immediate campaign to attract men and women and to facilitate in every possible way the building of reasonably priced homes here.

For while each campaign is a major campaign in its own right and of inestimable and lasting importance to every Edmonton citizen, there is a factual link between them.

The history of growing Canadian cities shows beyond doubt that whenever and wherever there is a successful campaign of civic beautification there always follows immediately an increased activity in home building.

Speculative builders, for instance, are much more eager to invest money in a community where there is little self-respect than in a community that is backward and reactionary in such matters.

Speculative builders, in a community willing to beautify itself, are sure of an adequate return on their investment.

Speculative action on the Macdonald hotel project will not only initiate a beautification campaign, but will give real impetus to the campaign for better housing.

Victor Emmanuel may therefore be taken as a move thought likely to secure the widest possible measure of Italian support in defeating the Nazi and Fascist forces. That is an important matter for the time, and it would cost the Allies need to be concerned about.

When Italy is again free of Hitler influence it will be the business of the Italian people what form of government they are to have and who is to be king. They elect to have a king, and that is the Allies' desire. The Italian politics is to bring as many Italians as possible into the fight to re-establish the independence of the country. That fight belongs, first and foremost, to the Italian people. The movement of Victor Emmanuel will help to consolidate them on the side of national freedom nothing will so become that weakling monarch as his going.

An offshoot of the war bond issue is another factor in the situation contemplated in the immediate future. This indeterminate period may be supposed to cover the time until cattle get on the grass and milk production goes up. Smaller butter allowances are thus unlikely until next winter.

V

The bombers from Britain are now "going after" French and Belgian railways in particular. Rightly or wrongly, Rommel will interpret this as an attempt to win him the war on the eve of invasion. If the Führer sends more troops to stop the Russians at the Carpathians he will have to get them somewhere else in that coastal zone. Which, in the war of wits, may be why the bombers are concentrating there.

In their adventure in Assam the Japs have been getting along as well as they can have expected, and well enough to cause some uneasiness among citizens in Allied countries. The Japs, however, do not seem to be aligned, which suggests that they have made preparations to deal with the invaders when these get far enough from their bases that defeat will mean liquidation. The Japs may therefore have got along too well for their own ultimate good.

The assailant of President Camacho may have been inspired, but the discovery of secret documents in his possession goes far to confirm the most probable explanation that he was the instrument of a conspiracy on the part of Axis agents, operating from the Argentine or Bolivia. If so, it is unlikely that Camacho was the only man to fall down for assassination. The heads of virtually all the American super-nationalities should be guarded—guilty as one result of the attack on the Mexican chief.

It is reported that when Russian tanks broke the Axis lines before Odessa, "Cossack cavalry" poured through the gap to pursue the fleeing enemy. This is only the latest item in a list of references to the Cossacks which goes back to the days of the czars, from Stalin's time to far beyond that. The Russians have in fact been using the supposedly obsolete horse all through the war, in retreat and advance, very freely and very effectively, both to carry men and to pull transport. The wisdom of this has come back to the heads of the numbers raked and lucky charms to be had in shelling the hard way.

Recently, however, a mild amendment to even so modest a proposal as Eleanor Roosevelt's to inspect their sights and alter their methods, the majority of the negroes seem to be in accord with the proposed national negro newspaper week. I do not know what exacts the editor of the Hearst papers to write from an editorial in the Tribune of Los Angeles, a newspaper publisher, and for negroes, "The Negroes are the last degree of the Negro Publishers' Asociation, is national Negro newspaper week has been officially confirmed.

"Be careful at that party tonight, son! You may have a medal for fighting Japs, but it's a spring night and you're an awful easy mark for a pretty face!"

The Defeat of Wendell Willkie

Every Country Tends to Become Nationalistic in War

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

The defeat of Mr. Willkie in the Wisconsin primaries and the withdrawal of his candidacy will cause disappointment to many in the United States but abroad.

Mr. Willkie probably represented the largest area of agreement with the electorate as a whole than any other man could have achieved.

That attitude is a different thing within a political party. He had a large following among Liberals, who normally vote with the Republicans. His supporters seem to be content with half a loaf or even three-quarters of a meal.

When one is fighting a battle, foreign enemy for a victory, he is not likely to have ill-will toward his own party.

Two men have recognized the President and Mr. Willkie. Both have tried to heal factional rifts by change, but purges seem to be against the American way of life at the pinnacle of his popularity and power, he has respectfully discouraged many of his most enthusiastic supporters from voting for him.

That attitude is neither New Deal nor even Democratic. It is the kind of attitude that wins over the hands of Republicans. Against it, the critical mass of the public is with the Progressive and W.P.B., are in the hands of Republicans. Against it, the critical mass of the public is with the hands of Republicans.

Verbal persuasiveness in his criticism of the Roosevelt administration is to evaporate upon analysis. It sometimes seems—incorrectly—that he will have to give up our allies when he goes to the United States.

Now, all the countries becoming nationalistic are fighting a war.

This is one of the unfortunate accompaniments of war, which often threatens friendly policies.

That attitude would have made it possible to change an administration without a revolution, but it is not possible to do that by outside influences, of course, but rather to advance the sound common sense, reasonableness, and wisdom of world affairs is to our interests. Mr. Willkie occasionally seemed willing to do that.

He was willing to do that in front of us, when he called for a second front in 1942, which would have mainly been to move our allies.

The Republican party is thorough need of liberalization. But there is no way for that end, in a quiet way. Whether or not they win the election, they will have to do so, plodding inside work, with influence politics. Curiously enough, I believe that most Americans would like to see Mr. Willkie's way.

But this is not exactly in Mr. Willkie's way. In this he suffers from the same reactions which plagued the president.

The new deal would have been more popular if it means by the Republicans that they will be a candidate, and the president, if he is effective, will be a candidate, they will be effectively destroyed.

Having been a reader of the Los Angeles Times for years, and of the New York Tribune, I feel, before I feel qualified to endorse the contrast which it perceives between Mr. Willkie and Mr. Roosevelt.

Negro Press Wrongs Negroes

Tends to Exploit and Degrade All Colored Folk

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK—About two years ago, yielding to the wild impulse of the moment, I wrote an article on the Negro press. I composed it during a period of any training, talent and respect for the profession, is naught. The article, in the local crop, the national 'biggies' and the smaller weeklies all over the country, was a success. It was often enough to know that they are not improving any.

With editorial meanderings, we have circled around in proportion to the Negro population's increase.

With the white press really possess that much of the Negro population, Negro newspapers are passing between men and women have no power. They lack the ability to speak for their jobs, knowledge or opportunity.

With the Negroes' people and exploiters and explorers of their ambitions, After a while, the job gets too big for the press. Negro newspapers are passing between men and women have no power. They lack the ability to speak for their jobs, knowledge or opportunity.

WHETHER by design or otherwise, the impression was permitted to gather general credence during recent months that service men could not participate at all in organized football on the regularities in first connection.

To the lament at least, the Navy alone appeared to be adopting a more liberal attitude all along and the C.A.H.A. has now made it clear, according to press reports, that the service commandant of the officer school did hold a key to the situation—probably within certain limits, though.

The C.A.H.A. officials have just finished a busy session and some idea of the size to which this organization has grown can be gained from realizing that minor hockey—bantam, midget and juvenile—had a total enrollment of over 10,000 to 27,000. It looks as if a reasonably robust supply of players will be available.

And the steps taken to curb the "military replacement" abuse were well taken.

HAWKS NOT YET

Possibly the Chicago Black Hawks will be able to register their first win of the season against Montreal Saturday night. The fans, however, it looks to be just another "last stand" with the team having to play its last game November 25.

Alberta Request Refused

Reports on Minor Hockey Show B.C. Spent the Most

Montreal, April 13.—(CP)—Financial reports listing expenditures for the 1943-44 season by various branches of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association were before the board that day at the annual meeting of the C.A.H.A. The report was read by Al Pickard of Regina, second vice-president of the C.A.H.A., and chairman of the finance committee.

The Ontario Association spent $1,000 more than the C.A.H.A. President F. W. "Dinty" Moore stated that the committee had done a good job.

He said that only money accounted for in the minor expenditures was $1,000, while $1,000 was also spent by the C.A.H.A. for minor hockey.

British Columbia led the list with an expenditure of $2,073.40, while the Maritimes and Manitoba were close behind with a branch spending $2,084.71 and Manitoba's total was $2,065.75.

Alberta spent $1,342.60, Saskatchewan, $1,342.00, and Ontario $1,318.88. Quebec, whose minor hockey was played in the Maritimes, Quebec, Ontario, Ottawa districts, and the Comptons to conform with the new rules, spent grants of $1,300.

A grant from the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association for an additional grant to the $1,500 given to the C.A.H.A. by the C.A.H.A. year was turned down.

The finance committee in a statement to the C.A.H.A. meeting said the board could set its way clear to giving an additional $1,000 to the Alberta Association. That association had been attempting to carry on as best as possible for the next season.

The Alberta request was made by Jack W. Mess, president of the Alberta Association, and Dr. W. G. Hartley, life member and president of the International Ice Hockey Federation.

Alberta financial statements showed a loss of $126,425.40 for the year ended March 31, 1943, while the expenses were $1,604.45. Alberta's budget for the 1944-45 season was predicted to produce a one-third decrease in revenue next season since the budget was based on the average of those years. Bills had fought on all of the cards at the arena this year.

The Alberta members have assumed many who have watched them on their way to the Canadian finals,

British Columbia led the list with an expenditure of $2,073.40, while the Maritimes and Manitoba were close behind with a branch spending $2,084.71 and Manitoba's total was $2,065.75.

Alberta spent $1,342.60, Saskatchewan, $1,342.00, and Ontario $1,318.88. Quebec, whose minor hockey was played in the Maritimes, Quebec, Ontario, Ottawa districts, and the Comptons to conform with the new rules, spent grants of $1,300.

A grant from the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association for an additional grant to the $1,500 given to the C.A.H.A. by the C.A.H.A. year was turned down.

The finance committee in a statement to the C.A.H.A. meeting said the board could set its way clear to giving an additional $1,000 to the Alberta Association. That association had been attempting to carry on as best as possible for the next season.

The Alberta request was made by Jack W. Mess, president of the Alberta Association, and Dr. W. G. Hartley, life member and president of the International Ice Hockey Federation.

Alberta financial statements showed a loss of $126,425.40 for the year ended March 31, 1943, while the expenses were $1,604.45. Alberta's budget for the 1944-45 season was predicted to produce a one-third decrease in revenue next season since the budget was based on the average of those years. Bills had fought on all of the cards at the arena this year.

Montreal, April 13.—(CP)—Financial reports listing expenditures for the 1943-44 season by various branches of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association were before the board that day at the annual meeting of the C.A.H.A. The report was read by Al Pickard of Regina, second vice-president of the C.A.H.A., and chairman of the finance committee.

The Ontario Association spent $1,000 more than the C.A.H.A. President F. W. "Dinty" Moore stated that the committee had done a good job.

He said that only money accounted for in the minor expenditures was $1,000, while $1,000 was also spent by the C.A.H.A. for minor hockey.

Lodestars Grab Edge in Western Series

Ports Drop Rough Game By Score 6-2

PORT ARTHUR, April 13.—(CP)—The New Westminster Lodestars easily whipped the Arthur Shipbuilders 6-2 in a rugged encounter here Wednesday night to take the lead for the first time in their best-of-seven western series.

The British Columbians have won three games. Shipbuilders two, and one was a 5-5 overtime tie.

Pete Laskow, an ice wing, was early in the game with a rib injury. Club officials feared a rib had been fractured when he was hit in the shoulder by Shipbuilder's elbow. Later, a teammate, John Ursaki, suffered a neck injury.

Coach Frank Doten announced after the game the two players will be "okies." X-ray of Laskow's ribs revealed no fracture. Ursaki had a sprained shoulder.

The 11th was much the same, with Bert Gustafson and John Ursaki each scoring a goal.

Edgar Duffey, goalie, had a save.

Port Arthur's came from behind late in the period to deadlock the score 1-1, then add three goals in the middle section without a reply. The British Columbians added one more to give them a 4-1 lead.

Canadiens Can Settle Series

By Win Tonight

MONTREAL, April 13.-(CP)—Chicago Black Hawks and Montreal Canadiens rested Wednesday because of lack of ice for practice. Preparation for the final game of their Stanley Cup final series tonight.

Ice was not available at the Forum home of Canadiens, so cause of a wrestling show last night that necessitated laying boards on the floor.

Three down in the best-of-seven series, Hawks will make another bid to visit the Forum in Chicago. The Canucks just pulled out victories in both games, after starting the series with a 5-1 victory here.

The Hawks will be without Milt Marner, who has been out since following aggravation of an injury suffered in the semi-final series against Detroit Red Wings. Otherwise, both squads are at full strength for the final.

Mahara Barred For Three Years

MONTREAL, April 13.-(CP)—Paul Mahara of Trail Junior Smoke Eaters yesterday was suspended one year from organized hockey. The suspension was ordered out by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association at its annual meeting.

Mahara was charged with a count of twice falsifying baptismal papers in his efforts to get his Trail team in the western Memorial cup playoffs and caused his team to forfeit its place in the tournament against Regina Commandos. The Trail team defeated the Commandos in the semi-final and will concentrate on emptying the barrels of men from 18 to 38, at the request of the Canadian navy, who crave young fighters.

Men under 26 are more psychologically and physically more susceptible to the effects of war than ever. In sports like football, boxing, and baseball, a man usually reached the peak of his physical development before he was 26 or over are likely to be better than the Hershey defensive activities. Washington later may come along which organization comes under "war supporting activities for the benefit of draft boards."

MOST IMPORTANT

MONTREAL, April 13.—Montreal men believe that the game will continue to keep the ambiguous classification given it by Paul Mahara. The war manpower commissioner rated baseball activity that was not non-essential to the war effort as neither fish nor fowl. If such a rating is maintained, the ball betting will be 26 or over likely to be better than the Hershey defensive activities.

Nips Better Keep Away From Eddie!

LOS ANGELES, April 13.-(AP)—A keen eye for moving objects is one of baseball's pre-requisites and Eddie Stanky, who has pitched for Hollywood, has demonstrated to the army that he qualify.

Now stationed at Camp Roberts, Calif., Stanky was put behind a machine gun and told to fire at a radio-controlled plane. When others weren't able to hit one plane in 50 shots, Eddie didn't need his 50. Before he had finished he had destroyed every model they had and wrecked the apparatus. Cost to the government: $1,400.

N.Y. Yankees Shaping Up As Pennant Contenders Again

PLAINFIELD, N.J., April 13.—(AP)—Before shedding a crocodile tear for the fate of the poor New York Yankees, consider that Spud Chandler and Ernie Bonham are rejoining the hall club, 12 farm system-tested rookies are on the premises and Joe McCarthy is still manager.

Plainfield's pitchers are strong and ready to start in Chandler and Bonham whose impending inductions have been delayed, and Hall of Famers Harry Heilmann and Bill Zuber, who figure to be starters along with Walt Dubiel, a 16-game winner last year, and the new page, southpaw, who won 14 for the same club.

Pennington Johnson, of Kansas City, has looked good in brief appearances as has Floyd Billie Bevens, who had been held out by the White Sox, including pitchers Bud Black, Eddie Lopat, Dick Stengel, and Nick Ekin. Ekin is back at first and rookie Bevens will be a factor in the running of the Rose Marine handicap.

Pennington is hot on George Strineker, who is taking Joe Gordon's place at second after an unexpected retirement.

Shorthorn Club Told How Noted Breed Started

One hundred persons, comprising senior and junior members of the Northern Alberta Shorthorn club, gathered at the Corona Hotel Wednesday evening to participate in the annual dinner and meeting of the association.

It was a night dedicated, for the most part, to the junior members of the club, who were the descendants of the marks of the guest speaker, Dr. R. D. Simiar, University of Alberta, who had been invited to represent by H. P. Brown, Department of extension, University of Alberta.

STORY OF FOUNDER

Boys and girls heard the story of the founder of the Shorthorn breed, Amos Cruckshank, and were urged to get a good history of the breed, as well as the names of men like Cruckshank, as well as other early improvers, and every breeder was asked to contribute to the traditions, said the speaker.

Biography of the man who bred the first Shorthorn of England was told by Dean Sinclair.

Cruckshank, he said, wanted a rugged animal, one that would stand up to the hard work of Scotland, one that would "turn up turnips and eat straw" and provide a good milk producer. He wanted a beef animal of constitution, depth, wide back, and ribs, fleshiness.

He spoke about realizing an ideal animal, how he suffered at his apprenticeship, how he almost sold his entire herd to Argentina, and how he finally decided to go before royalty, provide a unique story.

Junior breeders, in being urged to look over pedigree were told that today the name of Cruckshank appears in every pedigree of the War Services Cattle. A special committee has been set up to study the situation, with a view to making available towards a clearly defined program outlined as soon as possible.

Soldiers returning from overseas were welcomed to the annual meeting of the "Welcome Home Club" now being established at the Canadian auspices of the Canadian Legion War Service.

John Taylor was welcomed as chairman of his great achievement.

SOLD IN ENGLAND

Cruckshank bought a bull in 1850, a son of which he sold to a local English sheep farmer in Aberdeen show the animal came third. The man disappeared almost immediately, and when he was found, in Scotland, in 1857, he had sold the herd; he never worshipped a pedigree.

THREE FILMS SHOWN

The first portion of the program was the showing of three films, the first of which dealt with 4-H youth clubs' work. A colored reel entitled "Teach Us" was shown to the ill and progress of the Peace River country, while a third film showed folk dancing in the Rockies.

Seated at the head table were Prof. J. W. G. Macleod, Saskatchewan University, Mrs. Sam Saks, Mrs. Miriam Green Hill, western representative, Family Herald and William Graubin, Alberta Division, Canadian Shorthorn Association, Calgary, and Longmore, deputy minister of agriculture, Alberta. Province Will Construct Coal Branch Highway This Year

Complete Plans to Build New 40-Mile Stretch From Bickerdike to Coalspur

A 40-mile stretch of highway from Bickerdike, just west of Edmonton on the Jasper highway, to Coalspur, is to be completed this year, Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, said today.

The new highway is to give better access to Coal Branch area which has hitherto been served by railway transportation only, making local travel on Coal Branch the provincial highway system; the route has been urged for a number of years.

The returning soldiers were welcomed at the airport, reaching the city Wednesday, as category men returning from service in Britain. There were just over 100 others arrived Thursday morning.

In addition to L-Cpl. Crowe the following were scheduled to leave on Edmonton Wednesday or Thursday:

Following the district men, Pte. G. W. Bender, Grimsby, Gnr. H. E. Erickson, Gunn. Spec. G. H. Roberts, Pte., C. S. Passer, Acting Sgt. R. W. Vermillion, Pte. J. Dargis, Bonnyville.

Other major improvements to be made out west include hard-surfacing on the Edmonton-Calgary highway between Crossfield and Calgary, hard-surfacing on the section between Edmonton and Millstet, and improvements on the Edmonton-Jasper highway.

Work on the Crossfield-Calgary stretch of the No. 2 highway was recently started, and it is to be permanent.

Mr. Fallow, accompanied by G. H. Monkman, deputy minister of highways, will leave for southern Alberta to inspect the progress of the provincial road system. It is planned to cover as many of the same roads as possible in the coming season.

Sea Cadets Given Two New Cutters

The QUESTION

Some reporters have asked in the armed forces that many naval points in the province are without any medical attention. Doctors are so urgently needed in the armed forces that doctors in the armed forces are forced to meet the requirements of the medical needs of the armed forces.

The cutters will be placed at the disposal of sea cadets training in Edmonton, and will make much more available to those most needed experience in boating, which is part of their training program.

The training boats will bear the names of the two new cutters which have been made available.

There is a total enrollment of 334 sea cadets in the Northern Alberta division with a file of about 100 applicants who are desirous of becoming members.

Approximately 200 cadets from this division are now engaged in active service.

THOMAS DANCER

THE ANSWERS

EARL DEAN, metallurgical engineer, thinks it would be best if the doctors, those who would be unable to go to fighting fronts, but who could help in the rear, were sent to the armed forces. Certainly some men must be spared from the front lines.

ROTARY, LIONS CLUB GIVE CADETS $1,000

• Public Support That City Clubs Receive Improves Training For Sea Cadets

OVER 200 of Edmonton's former Sea Cadets are today engaged on Active Service in Canada's Royal Canadian Navy. Their early training as Sea Cadets will help them tremendously in their fighting work today.

THE life of a Sea Cadet is an interesting one. They receive valuable training in rifle drill, target practice, seamanship, swimming, etc. They learn the parts of well known ships such as destroyers, frigates and corvettes.

THE two new cutters to be purchased with the $1,000 donation made by the Lions Club and the Rotary Club will enable some 332 Sea Cadets to acquire much needed experience in boating on lakes in the vicinity of Edmonton. Besides this enrolment, there are 100 applicants who are waiting and anxious to become members of the corps.

Navy League Will Purchase Two New Cutters for Sea Cadets

EDMONTON'S service clubs give valuable support to organizations throughout the city that are worthy of financial assistance.

THROUGH the efforts of the Rotary Club under its president, Mr. Reg. T. Rose, and the Lions Club under President Gordon A. Owen, the Sea Cadets of this city have received a $1,000 donation which will enable them to increase their training facilities immediately.

THIS good work, made possible by public support of club activities, is being carried on each year. Club members work voluntarily and give their time and effort to raise funds to assist charitable organizations and war activities depending solely on public support.

WHEN you give to a service club you give to deserving charities or to the war effort.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Art of Being A Woman Most Enviable in World

Mother Should Teach Girl Resourcefulness, Tact, "Truths of Life," Sympathy, So She Can Meet World Fairly, Squarely

A mother asks: "If you had a girl, and how to carry herself so little daughter, what would you do? That she looked fifty per cent prettier than she was, instead of forty years old." I think it's time we teach her how to dress, because beauty is in the eye of the beholder, not in the eye of the woman. So I would try to put into her hands the weapons with which she can defend her honor with the world. These are sweetness and kindness and tact, and how a woman is most enviable.

From your listing up I should decide to charm and good manners. I should teach her how to smile; how to meet people; how to be considerate; how to make friends at sight; how to show people the little attentions that have value so much beyond their worth.

SHOULD LEARN TACT

"Then I should begin in the kitchen, to teach her how to cook tactfully, that before she spoke and say the blunderings that she will make when the mother and little old dame come to see her. I would teach her how to live with a brute who mistreated her and her beans out against it. I should teach her how to sit idly, argue with him, and let him know he is a mean little person.

I should teach her how to be most enviable.

ANY SITUATION

"So I would see to it that my daughter has the prudence that she will not be taken advantage of, and make her own way in the world gives a woman, for thereby she can defend herself. I would teach that a woman feels when her husband dies and leaves her without a cent, and she hears the wolf at the door and has no way of getting out of it. I would teach her from the degradation of having to live with a brute who mistreated her and her beans out against it. I should teach her how to sit idly, argue with him, and let him know he is a mean little person.

And when I had taught my daughter to be considerate and sweet and good manners, I would give her a magic that would work wherever she went and that nothing could stop her.

I should teach her that no woman can afford to be ugly or unattractive.

I should teach her how to be most enviable.

Edmonton Man Weds Overseas

St. Luke's church, West Norwood, England, was the scene in January for the wedding of Miss Jan Cunningham Wilson of Glasgow, Scotland, and J. D. Batchelor, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Batchelor of Edmonton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. G. Smith, Vicar of the Rev. C. R. Farnsworth. Russian folk dances played the wedding marches. The bride was away by Paul Wiltman. She wore a white brocaded satin with Medina lace and head-dress to match. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Miss Katherine Brown attended as bridesmaid, wearing a pale blue taffeta frock with matching hat. She carried a bouquet of roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Waverley hotel, St. Leonards. Later the couple left on a short holiday, returning home to a dusky pink frock, black pan velvet hat, with gay, gloves and shoes to match. Her coat was a grey Indian lamb.

Head-Hannah Nuptials Held

Bouquets of spring flowers decorated Holy Trinity church for the wedding of W. W. Head, 21, of Notus Head, eldest daughter of Capt. and Mrs. John Hannah, 21 avenue, to LAC. George Cyril Head, R.C.A.F., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Head. The Rev. W. H. G. Smith officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a beige two-piece suit with a lace-trimmed belt and accessories and a pink rose corsage.

Miss Jean Hannah, sister of the bride, was maid of honour. The frock was of powder blue wool, hat to match, white gloves and a yellow rose corsage.

Cpl. "Bud" Bradley, R.C.A.F., was best man.

At the wedding, a small service was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, where spring decorations decorated the room and a tiered cake ended the bride's fare.

Capt. Head proposed the toast to the bride.

Later the couple left for a honeymoon in Calgary, then travelled in the Rockies, red roof with navy trimming. Upon their return LAC and Mrs. Head will reside in Edmonton.

$5,792 Spent Welfare Work

Provincial Chapter, L.O.D.E., spent $5,792 for child and family welfare work in 1942-43. This was $1,000 more than the amount it was announced Thursday morning by Mrs. A. J. West, convener of the welfare committee, at the meeting of the chapter now in session at the Macdonald hotel.

On Feb. 1, West presided for maternity assistance, Mrs. West said. One hundred and ninety nine dollars were spent for layettes and $113 was given to the Canadian Red Cross in aid of their relief funds. Used clothing and toys were donated to the value of $860. Children's clothing, $100, was used in the work of the order, she said.

"Canadianism is most important," she said. "Our men are important draftees, if we have at heart the interests of national unity during the critical years ahead." She added, "The Dominion and its members, when she presented her report to the committee on immigration, said that the chapter had done well in the provincial chapter. New Canadian immigrants have received from the organization $1,000 for King George and Queen Elizabeth.

Current magazines and books were sent to the men in the service in Newfoundland, Alberta, and the Edmonton Municipal Chapter this year formed the nucleus of a Canadianization committee. The chapter executive supplied 300 L.O.D.E. calendars for Christmas for distribution among the men in the various districts, and 1,200 greeting cards were sent during 1942-43 to newlyweds in the chapter.

Miss Helen Kennedy, reporting on Empire study work, said that one of the main objects in an Empire study group should be to develop an informed public opinion in the community. "Only by being well informed can the public hope to make any contribution to this objective. A large and active national organization like the L.O.D.E. meets regularly, and is capable and anxious to give constant leadership in this important field of L.O.D.E. work," she said.
